ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION see continuation sheet

Describe architectural features Evaluate the characteristics of this building in terms of other buildings within the community.

The police station at 244 Main Street was built in 1986 in the utilitarian style with a side gable roof. This 5 x 4 bay, wood frame, one-and-a-half story building is rectangular in plan and sits on a concrete foundation. The side gable roof is covered with asphalt shingles. A row of skylights pierce the roof across the front slope. One chimney is located at the ridge of the house. The entrance contains double glass and aluminum doors with a plain surround . The windows contain metal sash with flat surrounds. The cornerboards are thin and flat. The cornice is thin with a shallow molding. A large garage used to house and maintain town vehicles is attached to the rear of this building.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE see continuation sheet

Discuss the history of the building. Explain its associations with local (or state) history. Include uses of the building, and the role(s) the owners/occupants played within the community.

The police station was built in 1986 on 1.28 acres of land and is owned by the Town of Kingston.

This was previously the site of Kingston High School.
