ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

The residence at 166R Main Street was originally a c.1850 carriage barn converted to a residence. This 3x3 bay, wood frame, 2 story building sits on a concrete block foundation. The building is clad with wood clapboards. The hip roof is covered with asphalt shingles and a wood ventilator projects from the center of the roof. A brick chimney is directly behind the ventilator. The entrance contains a early 20th century wood door flanked by fluted pilasters and pedimented hood. The windows contain 8/8 sash on the first floor with 6/6 sash on the second floor with flat surrounds. A side addition to the building is covered by a shed roof.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE:

This building was originally a barn on the property of Henry H. Warden. The property was moved to a new foundation and renovated to a residence during the 20th century.
