ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

The residence at 51 Evergreen Street was built c.1878 in the Italianate style. This 3x4 bay, wood frame, 2 story building sits on a granite block foundation. The building is clad with wood clapboards. The front gable roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Two brick chimneys pierce the roof at the ridge. The entrance contains an Italianate style door with a pair of round arch glass lights in the upper section. The entry is sheltered by a wrap around porch supported by Doric columns. Part of the porch has been enclosed. The windows contain 2/2 sash with flat surrounds with molded hoods. A bay window projects from the first floor, east elevation. The corners are enhanced with pilasters. The cornice is boxed with returns. A 2 story, front gable barn is adjacent to the house.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE:

Evergreen Street was a cart path or short cut from the intersection of Summer Street and the railroad tracks to the intersection of Main Street, Wapping Road and Pembroke Road, until c.1878 when it was laid out as a town road and named Evergreen Street. This house was one of the earliest on Evergreen Street appearing first on the 1879 map owned by W. Faunce. By 1903 ownership had shifted to W. W. Myrick. Myrick had land and property holdings around Summer Street.
