Treasurer and Collector,	300 00
Town House,	300 00
Great Bridge,	2,000 00
Making the sum of	$19,600 00

It is safe to estimate the income to the Town from various sources for the ensuing year at not less than $9,000, and if these recommendations are adopted there will remain $10,600 to be provided for by tax, to which sum must be added about $1,000 for State and County tax.

It may be wise to consider, in our action, for the immediate future, that the valuation of personal estate a few years since, exceeded the valuation of the real. Since 1889 the valuation of personal estate has decreased more than $325,000—a sum greater than the entire valuation of two of the towns in the County; while the valuation in real estate remains very nearly the same from year to year. The owners, therefore, of the real estate, which is growing less and less remunerative, in many cases, are obliged to carry a larger proportion of the taxes. While in most cases we get as much for the money we pay in taxes as we do in any other use of our money, still it must be admitted that there are cases in the Town wherein the tax has become a grievous burden, particularly in instances where the property of the person assessed lies in acres of land. It may be well also, to bear in mind that two more estates that have long been included in the number upon the first page of our valuation list, must shortly disappear and reduce still further the personal valuation.

During the year three general alarms have been given, the first of which occurred Feb. 3, at 4.40 o'clock, A. M., for a fire which consumed the barn of Mr. Alfred Waldo Chandler, Main Street, and was probably of an incendiary origin. Hose 1 and 2 responded promptly and in time to save his dwelling, which was situated close by.

The second alarm was sent in Aug. 31, caused by the explosion of a bottle of benzine, standing upon a mantelpiece over a heated stove at the tenement house owned by Mr. Charles H. Barnes and occupied by Charles Avery and Jacob Kase, standing on Main Street, Rock Nook. Hose 3 was on hand in less than five minutes, and, after laying 600 feet of hose, extinguished the blaze, with a damage of about $10.00.

The third and last alarm was rung on the night of Dec. 24, shortly after 9 o'clock, for a fire in the dwelling house of the late Nathan Chandler. Hose 1 and 2 responded to a man, in quick order. The fire was handled well under the direction of Assistant Chief Keith, with very little damage to the property.

A number of fires have occurred during the year which have not been reported. Some of them when found were getting to be serious and almost beyond control of the "bucket brigade."

All of the hose carriages have been thoroughly overhauled and put in prime order, and the hose is in good condition. The Water Commissioners have placed new hydrants at the different points suggested by the Board of Engineers of '93, and all the territory along the whole line of pipe can be conveniently covered.

We believe the Fire Department is in better condition to-day than ever before, in spite of what we have heard to the contrary. The men have always done their duty well, and have our heartiest approval.

Very respectfully

J. DELANO, JR., Chief.

REPORT.

FELLOW-TOWNSMEN:—At the close of the last term there were in the Rocky Nook School 52 pupils, and in the Stony Brook School 35; and in each of these seven grades, or seven years' work, claiming the attention of a single teacher. In the Centre Primary School there were 51 pupils in five grades, or five years' work to two teachers; and in the Grammar School 46 in three grades, or three years' work to one teacher. This allows to pupils very unequal advantages, and so long as the Schools named remain organized as at present individual learners must be neglected, efforts of teachers baffled and the progress of classes retarded.

By taking the 16 pupils of the sixth grade from the Grammar School; and the 19 of the fourth and fifth grades from the Primary School, and putting them together, there could be formed an Intermediate School with 35 pupils in three grades, and there would be left in the Primary 33 in three grades.

It, now, the three seventh-grade pupils of the Rocky Nook School and the four seventh-grade pupils of the Stony Brook School were to go to the Grammar School, each of these two Schools would have one year's less work, and more time could be devoted to remaining grades; and the Grammar School under the arrangement would have 37 pupils.

The establishment of an Intermediate School would do much to equalize the privileges and insure the more equal progress of pupils, and the preparation for admission to the High School would be improved in quality and thoroughness. An Intermediate School would require a suitable room to be provided, but no addition to the present teaching force.

Dr. John T. Prince, Agent of the State Board of Education, who has made school organization and classification a special study, says: "Thirty pupils in Primary grades and forty in Grammar grades are quite as many as one teacher should be expected to teach. A less number would doubtless be better for individual pupils, while more would tend to force the teacher into mechanical ways of teaching, making one pupil do the same work as every other, and precisely the same way."

Drawing is required by law to be taught, and has a prominent place in well-organized schools. In order that all of our teachers might impart instruction in that branch productive of best results, Prof. Henry T. Bailey, State Supervisor of Drawing, has been engaged to meet the Kingston teachers and give a course of drawing-lessons, which he will do free of expense to the Town.

A beginning has been made, in an inexpensive way, to introduce sewing, by way of experiment, in two Schools. Miss Simmons, the assistant in the Primary School, has given lessons in the Primary and Rocky Nook Schools, in each one half an hour a week. She has taught, so far, the following stitches: Basting, overcasting, hemming, running, backstitching and cross-stitching. While sewing is being taught to the girls, the Principals of the Schools give lessons in drawing to twelve boys, and there is no interruption of class-work.

The present courses of studies for the High School—comprehensive, and made flexible by options—meet the aptitudes and wants of individual learners. Very few pupils, it appears, can remain in the School full four years. Many enter the School with the intention of remaining only one or two years, but who might remain three years, and by taking and completing the regular Scientific-English course—a course of great educational value—receive a certificate.

The Committee regrets that the way has not been clear for the employment of a professional superintendent. Fortunately, in the absence of skilled supervisors, the Schools, upon the whole, have been favored by having the services of able and faithful teachers; and to the excellent character of their work must be credited the present improved condition of the Schools.
